

THE HAPPY DOG

Once there was a dog named Copper. This dog lived in Paw Field a human free town that was on a cliff. Copper was a mix of a spaniel and a dachshund and was small with a brownish color. Copper had a mom and a dad and was very happy. He also had lots of friends and was the popular dog in town. All the dogs that lived in Paw Field knew of Copper because of his looks, his ability to catch wild animals, his personality of not being scared of anything, and that how good he is at playing kick ball with all the other dogs.

One day Copper was playing kick ball with all the other dogs, and they were having lots of fun, but all the dogs got called in for dinner. They made plans to play after dinner, which squirrels that they caught or they just had grass. After dinner all the dogs were out playing ball again and all of a sudden a grasshopper came out of no where and all the dogs got scared. Grasshoppers were the most feared insects at Paw Field, so they all turned and looked at Copper to kill it. Not only did Copper step forward and kill it but he ate it too. All the dogs looked at him in fear like he was the grasshopper and like he was really gross. All the dogs left and it was just Copper and the ball. The next day all the dogs heard about what Copper had done and they just completely ignored him, even his mom and dad.

The next day Copper tried to play ball with all the other dogs but they didn't let him. The other dogs played near the cliff as far away from copper as possible. Copper still found were they were playing and went there but he wasn't allowed. He tried as hard as he could but they wouldn't let him get the ball. Copper made his last try to get the ball, but he missed, and slipped, lost his balance, and fell off the cliff. He caught onto a branch with his teeth, Copper hoped someone would help him but nobody came.

All of a sudden the branch broke and Copper fell, he did not know what to do. Then he landed on something soft that launched him in the air and he came back down safely. He had landed on an awning that saved Coppers life. Below the cliff Copper saw humans, which he had never seen before. He had no idea what to do. Then these two humans came running towards him and put him in a cage. Copper got very scared because he didn't know what to do or where he was going. He was then put in a bigger cage with lots of dogs that he had never seen before.

Copper finally got used to the fact that people would come and take dogs, but they wouldn't come back. More dogs always replaced those taken. Then one day he got taken out of a cage and he was taken by people who he had never seen before.

Copper got really shy because they called him by a new name "Lucky". He got used to his new name. And after a while Copper was really happy because he got fed and walked every day and the most important thing was that he was treated nicely and loved by everyone in the family.